THE MYSTICISM OF CARDS.

A. Maitland Stenhouse, Lethbridge, Invents a New Game.

The following remarkable production has been sent us for publication by A. M. Stenhouse, ex-M. P. P. for Comox. He says in a note that he conceived the new game while a resident of Comox. It therefore will have a special interest for our readers. We have not tried to play the game, and confess to not being sufficiently acquainted with the science of card-playing to thoroughly understand the "Genesis" as expounded by the Lethbridge apostle.

GENESIS,

or Naturism, is a new card game, so called because it symbolizes four periods in the social evolution of the natural man, and also, transversely, thirteen moons or months in the ebb and flow of his physical life.

On this obvious principle, the square pack of fifty-two cards would seem to resolve itself into thirteen natural suits of four cards each, in place of the more venerable arrangement in four suits of thirteen each.

The four cards of the several suits take precedence in the order of genesis. Such order is very apparent, thus:

I. The Heart—Life.
II. The Spade—Labor.
III. The Diamond—Wages, or their equivalent.
IV. The Club—A dispute about wages or other product of labor.

These four cards, then, in their symbolical character are true correlatives. There is no life without labor, either useful or useless; no labor without wages, if but the wages of sin, and no wages, nor any product of labor, without dissatisfaction. And vice versa.

As already anticipated, the thirteen suits represent thirteen moons or lunar months of the ebb and flow of a human life.

The cards of the different suits are designated as follows: Heart of aces, spade of aces, diamond of aces, club of aces; heart of twos, spade of twos, diamond of twos, club of twos; heart of threes, spade of threes, diamond of threes, club of threes; and so on through the other suits, including the knaves, or, less profanely, the sons, the queens and the kings.

The game is played by four persons in two partnerships, and proceeds as in whist, with a necessary variation of tactics; the suit of the turn-up card being trumps.

For a reason which cannot here be disclosed, the heart of sevens is always a trump, and takes precedence of the other trumps. Accordingly, the suit of sevens has only three cards, unless sevens are trumps. In the latter case trumps are said to be "square," because they are then reduced to four. The correlations of this typical square and the seventh numeral are worthy of investigation.

Each player must follow suit if he can; otherwise he must discard or trump. The laws of whist obtain throughout, as far as they apply. Variations are sufficiently obvious.

To beginners it may appear that those players must inevitably win who are dowered with the greatest wealth of hearts. But with proper management on the other side such is very far from being the case. The fittest in mind will often survive the animal that excels in material strength. The former will study to discard the useless and to retain the useful matter, and will often contrive to renew himself at the expense of his enemies. The writer has repeatedly tried the experiment of dividing twelve hearts between his adversaries, giving them also the two highest trumps out of "squares," or the three mean trumps out of five, and after selecting for himself and partner from the balance of the pack, has succeeded in winning the odd trick. This, to be sure, is not a perfect test, in so far as either side has a knowledge of the opposite hands, but it shows that one life may be our salvation, and that victory will not always attend on demons of a dozen hearts. A weak hand united to a first-rate memory will win against a strong hand and a weak memory. The secret of winning with only one or two hearts is to discard in such a manner as to retain the command of seven suits. If we can then secure the lead before the seventh trick, by the aid of a trump or a winning card, the remainder of the deal is swept in without a break. Still, it may be said, generally, that twelve hearts are bound to win; while the full complement of thirteen is always invincible.

If the tyro is wedded to medieval notions in the matter of cards, he will naturally be a little confused at first, and when any suit of four is exhausted in his hands he will often continue unconsciously to "follow suit" in the old style, instead of discarding or trumping on the new system.

The rubber or climax consists of seven games, representing seven years of the ebb and flow of human life. It may be won, of course, in four consecutive games.

Many other lessons besides the foregoing may be learned from the square pack of cards. For the present it will suffice to observe that the pack is not the less square because three cards which it is utterly impossible to distinguish from the rest, though their meaning is quite evident, preside over the mystic square of seven. Nor is the pack without other semblance of authority. In its exodus from eternity, through myriad stages of progressive evolution, it has survived undoubtedly in its fittest form. Its triumph is daily celebrated by what are virtual majorities of Aryan people. But here arises the very pertinent question—Is there any inspiration in majorities? Vox populi, vox Dei, say the ancients; and yet, who knows?

A. MAITLAND STENHOUSE.

FOOLED WITH DYNAMITE.

A Bad Chinaman at the Asylum Nearly Killed by a Cartridge.

A peculiar accident occurred at the New Westminster Asylum the other day. It has been the practice to employ the inmates in various jobs around the grounds of the institution, the effect being highly beneficial. Of late they have been employed in excavating for the new wing to be constructed in the course of the coming summer. There was some blasting to be done, and for this dynamite cartridges were used. They were secreted in the potato garden, and from this supply one of the patients, a white man, stole a cartridge. It was in turn stolen from him by a Chinese patient, a very quarrelsome and troublesome fellow. He exhibited it to his fellow Chinese, and invited them to come into the yard. They assembled, and the Chinaman took the cartridge between two pieces of board. He lifted one and struck it. An explosion, of course, followed. One of the Chinaman's eyes was blown out, a portion of his head was blown off, and he was knocked unconscious. The spectators were unhurt, and danced and yelled around the wounded Chinaman in great glee thinking he was dead. He was a constant source of annoyance and terror to them, and they now thought he was dead. However, the resident surgeon is of the opinion that the Chinaman, though terribly disfigured, will recover.

VILLARD'S VICTORY.

How the Great Financier Looked and Felt After the Election.

Henry Villard returned to Tacoma from Portland on Monday night, and after a visit to Seattle left for the east to-day (Thursday). The Tacoma Ledger says: "Mr. Villard looked fully ten years younger than he did on the evening he left here last week and there was a notable elasticity to his walk as he stepped to the desk and placed in strong chirography an autograph so well known in financial circles in this country and the continent.

There was no prouder man in all Tacoma last night than the great financier. He had waged war on his deadliest enemy in railroad circles and his genial treatment of all comers who approached him showed he was not indifferent to so pronounced a victory.

Mr. Oakes' manner also evinced contentment, and it was apparent that the president of the Northern Pacific shared to no small degree the joy of Mr. Villard.

A GREAT BATTLE WON.

Second Vice-President Schulze, who was made a director of the O. & T. railroad by Monday's election in Portland, was in a very happy frame of mind. "It was a great victory," said the vice-president, "and one that will be beneficial to the whole Northwest. I have nothing to say at this moment of the great battle fought and won to-day, but you can rest assured I am heartily proud of so substantial a victory."

Vice-President Prescott was on the first landing of the stairway leading to his room when he was approached and asked of the election.

"I have but little to say," said Mr. Prescott. "I think Mr. Smith felt his defeat keenly. I do not care at this moment to express any further views upon the question."

THE PEACE RIVER.

The Latest News from Fort Vermillion.

As many of our readers are desirous of obtaining reliable information respecting the Peace River region, we publish with pleasure the following letter which appeared in the Edmonton Bulletin of June 8th. Vermillion is a considerable distance east of British Columbia, and in the 58th parallel of latitude:

VERMILLON—PEACE RIVER.

We have experienced an unusually mild winter. The average for January was about —2½. In February +6. In the early part of this month (March) the weather was so mild that winter seemed to be disappearing. It has, however, stiffened again. Still in any case the break up cannot be long deferred. The snow has melted very considerably and the ice on the river is not more than two feet thick. Everything seems to indicate an early spring. During the first part of the winter there was a great scarcity of food among the Indians. Moose were fairly plentiful, but the bright calm weather rendered it almost impossible to get near them. High winds in February relieved the strain. We hear, however, that the recent still weather and the crust that has formed on the snow is rendering it once more difficult for the hunters.

Our little community has been troubled by an outbreak of scarlet fever, but in a very mild form. Excepting one or two isolated cases it has not spread among the Indians. Those who have been ill are now fairly convalescent and it is to be hoped that there will be no fresh cases.

Mr. Deacon is in charge of Mr. Dunlevy's trading post here.

It is to be regretted that some of the H. B. Co's officers have misunderstood the sense of the petition drawn up by the members of our diocesan synod in session here last July, and which you kindly published. It arises from a misapprehension of the word "traders" in the 7th clause. We used the word simply to distinguish those engaged in the fur trade from the missionaries, Protestant and Roman Catholic. Certainly no disparagement of the H. B. Co. was intended, who have acted in a very kind and liberal manner toward the starving Indians.

April 5th, first geese killed; 8th, ducks seen; 10th, snow disappeared; 16th, ice started; 23rd, ice still lingers, very rotten, but the water too low to carry it off; 26th, wheat sown. Ice clearing out.

The steamer Grahame is expected at the Shorts about June 12th.

AMERICAN NEWS.

Threatened Strike on the Union Pacific.

Temporary Houses to be Erected in Johnstown.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Mortgaged for $15,000,000 to the U. S. Trust Co.

A Gigantic Mortgage.

CHICAGO, June 19.—The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway Co. recorded a mortgage to-day in the county clerk's office for $15,000,000 to the United States Trust Co. of New York. The mortgage is executed for the purpose of taking up all other indebtedness of the road, leaving the Trust Company the sole creditor, in order to secure a lower rate of interest, thus saving a large sum of money annually, and for the further object of double tracking between given points, and other needed improvements. The R. R. Co. gives every particle of its property to the United States Trust Co.

Opposed to Prohibition.

PHILADELPHIA, June 19.—The State election on the proposition to incorporate in the constitution the prohibiting of the sale of liquor in the state, took place to-day. The campaign has been carried on with the greatest vigor by both parties. Returns from 44 out of the 67 counties in the state show a majority of 169,454 against the prohibition amendment. Full returns will probably increase this majority to about 200,000.

Affairs in Johnstown.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 19.—The city council to-day granted the lumber committee the right to use the public square for the erection of business houses, and workmen will commence to erect 100 buildings to-morrow. The structures will be ready for occupancy in 30 days, and are to revert to the city at the end of 18 months, when the holders are expected to have their own houses ready for business. The council unanimously adopted resolutions requesting the railroads not to get up an excursion to visit Johnstown during the present condition of affairs. Eight hundred people came in on the Catline & Ohio railway to-day, very much to the annoyance of the officials and workmen. A woman, whose name is not learned, was taken to Bedford street hospital raving mad. She had lost all of her family, and when her son's body was recovered at noon to-day her brain failed her. The remains of a lady about 20 years of age were taken from Stoney creek this evening. The body is thought to be that of Miss Jennie Paulson, of Pittsburg.

A Threatened Strike.

LINCOLN, Neb., June 19.—It was currently reported yesterday, that articles of confederation were signed on Monday night by the local assemblies of the Brotherhood of engineers, firemen, brakesmen, switchmen, and Knights of Labor, pledging mutual support in the event of a strike on the U. P. This strike has been threatened some time, and the grievance committee have been in session some days making propositions to the officials of the road.

Robbed and Murdered.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 19.—David A. Pitts, a section foreman on the L. & N. R., was robbed and murdered here last night by unknown parties. The crime was committed in an open lot on First avenue, in a thickly populated neighbourhood, and withen 100 feet of an electric light. There is no clue to the assassin.

THE CRONIN MURDER.

Michael Davitt Expresses His Opinion on the Matter.

LONDON, June 15.—Since the news of the Cronin murder was cabled here from America Mr. Parnell and all the members of the Irish party have refrained from any expression of opinion or of sympathy. The recognized mediator here between the physical force party and the strictly parliamentary party is Michael Davitt. While publicly denouncing the use of dynamite, Mr. Davitt has frequently expressed in print and in speech his disapproval of Mr. Parnell's purely parliamentary tactics. He has sanctioned, if not urged, the strongest measures possible under the campaign. Mrs. Margaret Sullivan, wife of Alexander Sullivan, who is charged with having been the head of the political conspiracy to murder Cronin, came over from Paris on purpose to have a talk with Davitt. She subsequently returned to Paris and Davitt has since gone back to Dublin.

Davitt has been interviewed as to his opinion on the question of the complicity of Alexander Sullivan in the murder of Dr. Cronin. "I have read," said Mr. Davitt, "of the arrest with the greatest astonishment. I have the highest opinion of the character of Sullivan. I think the charge that he has been implicated in any way in the assassination of Dr. Cronin is absurd. I also think that the allegations that he ever misappropriated one penny of the funds of the National League are groundless. I believe him to have been the very soul of honor. So far from having enriched himself out of the funds of the league, he had, to my own personal knowledge, drawn on his own resources for the aid of the organization."

"From 1883 to 1886 he actually had a mortgage upon his house for several thousand dollars. About 1886 I met Sullivan at Chicago. He told me that he had left the Clan-na-Gael and that he had completely severed every connection with it. He further informed me that he had taken that step out of sheer disgust at the miserable quarrels which had arisen out of differences among Irish-American leaders in regard to American party politics. In my opinion, added Davitt, the parties who are working up these charges against Sullivan are actuated by motives of paltry personal spleen. I think that they now see their opportunity of crushing a prominent political rival."

"Do you think that your views represent those of Mr. Parnell or the leaders of the Irish parliamentary party on this side of the water?"

"As far as I know these views are the views of those with whom I am associated."

"What is going to be the effect of all this upon the league?"

"Just as the Times forgeries were thought by the enemies of home rule to have sounded the death knell of the national movement, but have had just the opposite effect, so I believe that the outcome of this mystery at Chicago will be of advantage to the league. It cannot possibly have been mixed up, directly or indirectly, in any transaction of this kind. It is only the avowed enemies of the national movement who are alleging any connection between the league and the murder of Dr. Cronin."

"Was Dr. Cronin, in your opinion, a spy of the British Government?"

"I have no information that would lead me to a correct opinion on the matter. Le Caron's testimony before the commission was the first indication to me of any suspicion touching Cronin. Assuming that Cronin has met his fate in consequence of being a British spy, Le Caron, in my opinion, was largely responsible for his death. Mrs. Sullivan said that her husband had cabled her not to come back to America, though she was anxious to do so. He assured her that he had no fears as to his acquittal."

MARTIN BURKE

Deeper in the Cronin Plot Than Any of the Others.

Summary of the Evidence Affecting the Suspect, Which is to be Submitted to the Grand Jury.

THE ARREST OF MARTIN BURKE.

CHICAGO, June 19.—"The arrest of Martin Burke at Winnipeg is the most important yet effected. He is deeper in the plot than any of the men now in jail," so said Chief of Police Hubbard tonight. From other sources a summary of the evidence affecting the suspect, and which will be submitted to the grand jury within 48 hours, has been obtained. A prominent north side Irishman will testify that but a few weeks before the murder Burke remarked that LeCaron should have been killed before he had a chance of leaving for England, and that there was another fellow who would get it before he was many weeks older. It will be shown that Burke and ex-Detective Coughlin were frequently seen together in a saloon on the north side, and that the former was a frequent visitor at the cottage of Iceman Sullivan; but the most important witness will be old Mrs. Phellem, Burke's aunt, and in whose house at Erie and Sedgwick streets he boarded. By her, it will be shown that he lost his position in the city sewer department last December and has since had no employment. Up to February he was short of funds. He ran in debt for his board and borrowed an occasional dollar wherever he could get it. From that time until his sudden flight from the city he had plenty of money, more in fact than when he was working. On the day of Dr. Cronin's disappearance he was absent from home. He did not return all night. Sunday morning at 8 he put in an appearance, heavy and sleepy, and in reply to questions said he had slept all night at the iceman's house. It will also be shown that he was an active member of the inner circle of camp 20 of the Clan-na-Gael. An officer will leave for Winnipeg as soon as the necessary papers can be procured. The grand jury spent over an hour this afternoon in going through twenty or more telegraphic and cable despatches produced by Western Union officials and supposed to have a bearing on the case. All the members of the body, however, had taken a special injunction of secrecy regarding the documents, and not a hint of what had been developed could be obtained.

THE APRON BAZAAR.

At Philharmonic Hall Under the Management of the Ladies of St. Andrew's R. C. Cathedral.

A bazaar and sale of fancy needlework was commenced at Philharmonic Hall yesterday afternoon. The bazaar was conducted by the ladies of the Altar Society of St. Andrew's R. C. Cathedral, of which Mrs. Tilton is president; Mrs. T. J. Burnes, vice-president; Mrs. A. E. McQuade, secretary-treasurer. The following ladies were in charge of the various tables; Plain aprons, Mrs. Berry; Mrs. Lawrence, Mrs. Anderson, and Mrs. McIvor. Children's aprons, Mrs. L. G. McQuade, Mrs. Jacob Sehl, Miss Wigley and Miss Dessy. Ladies fancy aprons, Mrs. E. A. McQuade, Miss McDowell and Mrs. Dessy. Ice cream stand, Mrs. Madigan, Mrs. Walther, Mrs. Keast and Miss Edith Ward. Candy stand, Mrs. Tilton and Mrs. Astrico. Flower stand, Miss Magirl. From the hour of opening yesterday until 11 o'clock last night, the sale was well attended, and the ladies who had charge of the booths were kept busy disposing of the aprons, which were of every quality and pattern—from the good plain article for household and kitchen use, to the beautiful little lace pinafore looking almost too delicate for wear. All the aprons disposed of were the handiwork of the ladies. Last evening the visitors to the hall were also regaled with ice cream and strawberries, and other light refreshment.

Germany Demands Compensation.

PARIS, June 19.—The "Soleil" says that the German government has made a demand upon France for compensation for the arrest of the alleged German spy, Lochmer, who was captured near Belfort on Whitsunday. The French officials declare that documents found on the person of Lochmer abundantly justified his arrest.

Another Strike Settled.

ANTWERP, June 19.—The increase of wages demanded by the firemen having been granted by the Red Star Steamship Co., the strike is ended.

The Kaiser Visits Dresden.

DRESDEN, June 18.—Emperor William was here to-day to attend a review, and in person led the troops before the king. Later, he took part in the ceremonies attending the unveiling of a statue to the late King John of Saxony. He then visited a grand army festival, and in the evening returned to Berlin.

Excited Politicians.

BRUSSELS, June 18.—There was an exciting scene in the Deputies to-day, when the new Liberal member representing Brussels constituency accused the Ministers of inciting the recent disorders at Kers, by means of agents hired for that purpose. There ensued a heated altercation, in the midst of which the President closed the sitting. All through the debate an excited and turbulent mob filled the streets outside.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

BOXING MATCH.

"Scotty" Cox, the 'champion lightweight of Australia,' says he will accept the challenge of Sam Murphy, the "Crescent City Chicken," for a ten-round match, with eight-ounce gloves, for points, the match to come off at Philharmonic Hall on Saturday evening next. Money to be posted to-day.

THE 'CYCLE.

Club run of the Island Wanderers at 7:15 this evening. After the run the regular club meeting will be held.

THE RIFLE.

An enthusiastic meeting of those interested in rifle shooting was held last evening in the drill shed for the purpose of forming a local rifle association. Capt. Smallfield was called to the chair and B. Williams appointed secretary pro tem. A resolution was offered and carried, naming the organization "The Victoria Rifle Association." The object of said association is to further the interest of rifle shooting and to encourage and teach the young idea how to shoot. Considerable routine business was transacted, and after the appoinment of a committee on bylaws the meeting adjourned to meet again next Wednesday evening, in the drill shed, for the purpose of receiving the report of the bylaw committee, and for the election of officers for the current year. It is the intention of the association to offer trophies for monthly competition, and it is expected that the association will have a large membership roll. The annual subscription has been placed at $2.50.

WRESTLING.

At Port Townsend on Tuesday evening, a large audience assembled at the Standard Theatre to witness the wrestling match between Sorakichi, the Jap, and Mike Brennan, champion of Washington Territory. Much sparring was done before a hold was secured, when the Jap secured a half-Nelson and brought Brennan to the floor. The advantage Sorakichi did not maintain long, and soon the contestants were upon their feet. Again the Jap secured a hold upon Brennan and threw him so that Brennan was forced to throw a complete somersault. Once the Jap lost his advantage, but immediately regained it, and in a very few moments had his rival upon his back, both shoulders resting upon the floor. Brennan was thrown in nine minutes and three quarters. Doubtless Mr. Brennan is a strong active man, but not the equal of the Jap, who has met the most celebrated wrestlers of the world.

BASEBALL.

In the Westminster vs. Vancouver baseball match, played Tuesday, Hannan, a Victoria boy, who was at Vancouver on a visit, went behind the bat for Vancouver, and succeeded in holding Vancouver's phenomenal pitcher Adams, perfectly. His work at bat was also of the snow-white sort—a home run, two three-base hits and a couple of doubles, for five times at bat, being his record, and also the reason why the Westminsters lost by a score of 16 to 4.

It is expected that the Wellington baseball team will meet the Amities at Caledonia Park on Saturday next.

VILLARD AND SMITH.

A Railroad Man's Opinion as to the Result of the Battle.

A prominent Seattle railroad man said in regard to the contest between Henry Villard and Elijah Smith:

"Judging from the names of the directors and the previous knowledge I had of the matter, I am sure that Villard beat Smith badly so far as the Oregon and Transcontinental and Oregon Railway and Navigation companies are concerned. Villard saw that Elijah Smith was determined to plunge the companies into litigation, and so he allowed his brother, Prosper Smith, to become a director. I think the only concession that Villard made to Smith besides putting his brother in the Board of Directors was to allow him to control the Oregon Improvement Company."

City Police Court.

In this court yesterday, Hon. A. N. Richards, P. M., presiding, William Nicholson was fined $5, with $2 costs, for using profane language on Government street. The case of Henry Smith, charged with an infraction of the pound by-law, was adjourned until to-day.

AN UNREASONABLE FAULT-FINDER.

Our Yates Street contemporary affects to be virtuously indignant because the Government did not interpose in the land exchange controversy, and make a declaration of its policy. It declares that the Provincial Secretary resembles half a dozen characters, amusingly dissimilar in the literature of the present and past generations, because he looked quietly on while the controversialists were discussing the merits of the land exchange. This is a newly invented crime. Is a government, on pain of being considered "cowardly" and "disingenuous" "pettifogging," and goodness knows what else, to take a hand in every newspaper discussion on questions interesting to the public? Is this the way in which governments generally act? Is it a crime in a Minister of State quietly to read the newspapers every morning in order to learn the state of public opinion on this, that and the other subject, and to benefit by the knowledge he thus acquires? If this is a crime every public man in the civilized world, from Lord Salisbury and Mr. Gladstone down to members of the smallest corporation, are criminals. There are people who, in the popular estimation, are considered wise and patriotic who assert that one of the chief uses of the daily newspaper is to keep the rulers of nations posted on the state of public opinion, so that they will be deterred from pursuing a policy contrary to the will of the nation. We find that even Bismarck, who is generally supposed to have pretty much the same opinion of the public as Vanderbilt is said to have expressed so tersely and so emphatically, is a diligent reader of the newspapers, not only of his own country but of foreign nations. He makes it part of his business to find out what people almost everywhere are thinking about and talking about. Yet no one is foolish enough to accuse him of pettifogging or of being like Ah Sin or the Veiled Prophet of Korassan, or Uriah Heep, or Dodson & Fogg, because he does not engage in the thousand and one controversies in which he and the Government which he controls have an interest, direct or indirect. He is rather commended and wondered at for keeping himself abreast with the times and for having an intimate knowledge of what is going on everywhere. We are surprised at our contemporary for condemning that in the Provincial Secretary as a vice which is regarded as a virtue in every other public man.

If there are gentlemen in this community so public-spirited and so communicative as to let the Provincial Secretary know through the newspaper press what they think of the merits of any public question, and if they go out of their way to sound public opinion for his benefit, he would be most foolish and most ungrateful not to avail himself of their valuable and most disinterested services. If their reasonings and their warnings, and their indignant remonstrances have had the effect of causing the Government to adopt a wise and prudent policy, is it for so patriotic a sheet as the Times to complain?

We are afraid that our contemporary was under the influence of its evil genius when that editorial was penned and published, for, if our observations are at all correct, it has, in this land exchange business, pursued precisely the policy which it condemns in the Provincial Secretary. It has been lying low. It, to change the figure, while the controversy was going on, has studiously refrained from showing its hand. It has carefully watched the game. We have no doubt that it will benefit by the knowledge it has gained. We do not blame our contemporary for this. It has acted discreetly. It, too, owes a debt of gratitude to the gentlemen who have been so "indiscreet as to ventilate their opinions in the press," but we will not say that it "has neither the mental nor the moral stamina to formulate a policy for public endorsement or condemnation." It has been simply cautious and clever. It has refrained from spreading its sail until it saw from what direction the wind was likely to blow. Now, while it would have been unofficial and undignified for any member of the Government to rush into print and unnecessarily to declare its intention with regard to the land exchange, there was nothing improper or undignified in the organ of the Opposition stating clearly and emphatically what its views were on the subject of the land swap at the earliest stage of the controversy. This we say not because we blame the Times for its reticence, but to show how inconsistent it is in condemning the Government for pursuing the very course which it considered it right to follow.

IN FIGHTING HUMOR.

The Argonaut is terribly exercised about the report that fortifications are about to be erected on Vancouver Island. It makes that report the text for a four-column article, in which the resources of this country are described in vigorous terms and its progress eloquently expatiated upon. The apathy with which the United States sees this young nation growing rich and powerful is commented upon by the Argonaut as something culpable. A struggle between this stripling in the family of nations and his full-grown neighbor is looked upon as inevitable. Our contemporary says:

> We Americans as a nation are like our prairies, large and generous, ample in our ideas and in our talk. Like many big men, we good-humoredly rely solely on our strength. We give millions away in pensions to our citizens of a past generation who fought for us in the last war; yet we will not spend a dollar in fortifications to protect our citizens of the present generation from the next war. We are like the lazy giant, Antæus, who grew in strength and proportion by simply lying on the earth. It is not difficult to guess what nation will try to play the role of Hercules.

The last sentence is intended to be very significant. But if all Americans are like the Argonaut, can they be truthfully described as large and generous, good-humoredly relying solely on their strength. The big, strong, good-humored, honest man does not look with envious eyes on the progress of a plucky neighbor who is not so big and not so strong as he, but who is working hard in the midst of difficulties, and who in spite of them is getting on in the world. Such a good-natured giant would be pleased to see the courageous and successful struggle going on beside him, and would feel disposed when occasion required to lend the youngster a helping hand. But as impersonated by the California Weekly, the giant is a scowling, cross-grained ill-natured ogre, who regards his youthful neighbor's prosperity with envious eyes, who is continually looking for an occasion to pick a quarrel with him and who threatens utterly to demolish him as soon as he thinks it worth his while to attack him. But we are not scared by the Argonaut's threats and the terrible grimaces it makes. In what it says of Canada and Great Britain it does not represent the feelings and the views of the majority of the American people. There are many indications that they entertain the most neighborly feelings towards Canada. That they do not want to quarrel with—nor to annex—her. They are willing that Canada and the United States shall grow and prosper side by side in the mutual interchange of good offices. If they should in time coalesce and become one nation, well and good. If they should continue to live apart as they are doing now there is no reason in the world why they should not continue to be the best of friends. There is no evidence that our big neighbor has the least intention to use its strength in an attempt to crush Canada.

MISREPRESENTED.

We see that we were mistaken when we said that Canada was not represented at the Paris exposition. We have since found out that Canada is represented, or rather misrepresented, at that great show. Every other country, with a vanity which, under the circumstances, is pardonable, has taken great pains to be seen at its best in Paris. Each has made such a display as is calculated to leave a favorable impression on the minds of visitors. Other exhibitors want them to see their country in the most favorable light. But Canada is above such weakness. She evidently does not care a button for the opinion of the world. It is immaterial to her whether foreigners look upon her as arctic or tropical, savage or civilized; for all that there is at the Paris Exposition to give visitors an idea of what she is like, and the progress she has made, is a band of Caughnawaga Indians. The Paris correspondent of one of the Eastern papers says:

> "In the very midst of the South American Republics, whose palaces are of striking beauty, splendidly decorated and surrounded by exquisite lawns planted with a profusion of tropical flowers and trees, stands Canada. The mighty Dominion in its modesty has adopted the Indian's wigwam for its abode. The Royal Commissioners consist of two Caughnawaga Indians, who are in charge of the whole department. A puzzled crowd is standing around giving and receiving information about this interesting country and its inhabitants. These much feathered and tatooed Canadians have adopted the buckskin costume, and a squaw, a rather unfair representative of our fair sex, has also improved her appearance with a most complicated calico dress of bright colors adorned by a large necklace of glass beads. Baskets and other Indian wares are extensively displayed and sold as staple productions. The canoes are looked upon as our mode of locomotion and transport. In short, a very large proportion of people who know nothing of the progress and proud position of Canada are confirmed in their conviction that we are a lot of Indians, with none of the comfort and progress of civilization. It is a satire on the country and its population for which somebody must be responsible."

We do not wonder that the patriotic young Canadian was indignant. Imagine; Canada represented at the Paris exposition of the industries of the world by a pack of dirty Indians with baskets and canoes of their own manufacture as samples of its productions. Ugh!

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

THE latest news from Stanley is neither very full nor very definite. He has it appears made the third journey across the wilderness, though with great labor and deplorable loss of life. He rejoined Emin Pasha, but he was not in a position to lead him and his little colony to the coast. He has gone to the south end of Lake Nyanza to find a depot of provisions which he left there. His party were evidently in need of the food and stores. The world is left in the dark as to what Stanley intended to do in the immediate future. Not a word is said in the telegrams about the return journey. It is expected that he will soon be heard from by way of Zanzibar. His friends on this continent are in full expectation of his return before very long, for we see that preparations are being made for a lecturing tour which he is to make in the States next winter. Their faith in Stanley's courage and enterprise must be great when they make appointments for him knowing that he is in the centre of Africa with a long, a difficult and a dangerous journey to be made before he reaches the sea coast. But Stanley has never yet disappointed his friends, and it is believed that he is not going to do so now.

THE OUTCASTS.

In attic high and grim and scant,
A ragged creature lonely sat.
His face was lined by pain and want—
At once he cried "Begone! avaunt!"
As o'er the threshold crept a cat.

"Stay, stranger, do not drive me hence:
I pray thee list my tale of woe;
I am too poor to give offense,
And, lacking now in every sense,
I scarce fear either word or blow.

"It was not always thus; before
They drove me forth the streets to roam
I always found an open door—
Alas, when we grow old and poor
That we should be without a home:

"The children loved to stroke my back,
When I was sleek and round and fat—
Make fly the sparks and list them crack,
They called me pretty puss. Alack!
I'm now but a neglected cat!

"Once when a bell the children found—
A tiny, tinkling bell—they tied
It with a pretty ribbon round
My neck, and at its merry sound
They laughed and laughed until they cried.

"To-day, whene'er my form they spy,
With ready hand they fling the bat
And I am forced for life to fly;
I've lost a foot—an ear—an eye;
There is no pity for a cat.

"My teeth are gone, my claws are dulled,
I can not hope to take a rat;
The hair from off my back is pulled—
My fare from backyard garbage culled—
Alas! I am a sorry cat."

"Poor creature, you have come at last
To one who feels your woe; like you,
By all the heartless world outcast,
I dream of an embittered past
That proved all false I once thought true.

'Come, maimed and ragged as you are,
Take half my crust; 'tis hard and dry
And all I have—but you shall share:
And while I live, so you shall fare
'Till one or both of us shall die!"

WOMEN IN AMERICA.

Their Position in Relation to Commerce, the Arts and Politics.

Prof. James Bryce, in that suggestive work upon the "American Commonwealth," which seems likely to create an equal interest with De Tocqueville's earlier volumes upon democracy, has an instructive chapter upon the position of women in the United States. "Nothing in the country," he says, "is more characteristic of the peculiar type their (our) civilization has taken."

Acquainted as we all are, observes the Providence (R. I.) Journal, with the efforts that are being made by a small class to secure the suffrage for women, and to make her sphere more nearly co-extensive with man's, it is probable that we have not realized how steadily during the last generation her position has improved in this country, or how favorably it compares with her lot in other lands. It seems to be evident that it is easier here for women to find remunerative employment in intellectual, commercial and mechanical pursuits than in any part of Europe. They have in large numbers won admission to the medical profession, a small but still respectable number have been admitted to the bar, several have been recognized as Christian ministers, a few are employed in journalism, and many in the various departments of literature. They form a great majority of the teachers in the public schools, the exact number of teachers reported by the United States Bureau of Education in 1887 being 104,249 men and 194,439 women. No prejudice has ever interfered with their entering the lecture field, they have played a conspicuous part in the promotion of philanthropic, moral and religious reforms, especially in the anti slavery and temperance movements, while in the cities their aid has been invaluable in the founding and management of countless charitable and reformatory institutions. While the claim that has been made for the enfranchisement of woman on equal terms with man has not been granted, except in the Territories of Utah, Washington and Wyoming, it has received more favorable consideration than in England, and fourteen States have now granted her the right to vote on certain questions connected with the public schools. It is worthy of notice, also, that women were admitted as delegates to the National Prohibition convention in 1884, and that they claimed admission as delegates to the last General conference of the Methodist church. Absolutely no prejudice interferes with their employment in commercial occupations wherever their services can be made profitable, and women already crowd the positions of clerks, secretaries, telegraph operators and kindred pursuits. While discrimination in the way of payment is made against them, it is probable that this, all things being considered, is not oppressive, and that a tendency exists toward increased remuneration. That a strong tendency exists to make the conditions of woman's life equally favorable with those of man is shown in the provision that is everywhere made in this country for the education of girls. It is quite as ample and adequate as that made for boys. They are received into the public schools upon equal terms, into many of the academies and colleges, even leading institutions like Michigan University setting the example, while the rapid endowment and large patronage of such institutions as Vassar, Smith and Wellesley Colleges show how strongly the higher education of women has appealed to the American sense of justice. In no other country in the world has ampler or better provision for this purpose been made.

A still more significant indication of woman's high position in this country is seen in the deference that is universally accorded her. She possesses a degree of social freedom that is unknown in older countries. Americans do not feel the need of guarding the character of their women by the barriers which are thrown around them in the old world. They are treated with confidence, allowed to be a law to themselves, and as a result inspire more profound respect by conduct which is, undoubtedly to a larger degree than elsewhere, irreproachable. This respect accorded to woman is as pronounced, though obviously with ruder manifestations, on the frontier as in the older parts of the country, and seems to be the direct outgrowth of our ideas of equality. We are so much accustomed to this that it never occurs to us to suppose that it can be otherwise anywhere. But let us see the contrast which Prof. Bryce notes: "A European cannot spend an evening in an American drawing room without perceiving that the attitude of men to women is not that with which he is familiar at home. The average European man has usually a slight sense of condescension when he talks to a woman on serious subjects. Even if she is his superior in intellect, in character, in social rank, he thinks that as a man he is her superior, and consciously or unconsciously talks down to her. She is too much accustomed to this to resent it unless it becomes tastelessly palpable."

We may well congratulate ourselves upon having struck, in this respect at least, one of the highest notes of civilization. The position accorded women has always been regarded as a test of a nation's progress. Woman is the natural perfecter of manners, morals, culture and religion. That we are in advance of other nations in the treatment of women may be taken as the best possible promise that the developments of the future will be in the line of the world's best achievements. How far it has already had a beneficial effect upon our National institutions and character we must again appeal to Prof. Bryce to determine: "The respect for women which every American man either feels or is obliged by public sentiment to profess, has a wholesome effect on his conduct and character, and serves to check the cynicism which some other peculiarities of the country foster. The nation as a whole owes to the active benevolence of its women, and their zeal in promoting social reforms, benefits which the customs of continental Europe would scarcely have permitted women to confer. Europeans have of late years begun to render the well-deserved admiration to the brightness and vivacity of American ladies. Those who know the work they have done and are doing in many a noble cause will admire still more their energy, their courage, their self-devotion. No country seems to owe more to its women than America does, nor to owe to them so much of what is best in social institutions and in the beliefs that govern conduct."

PIMPLES TO SCROFULA.

A Positive Cure for every Skin, Scalp, and Blood Disease except Ichthyosis.

Psoriasis 8 years, Head, arms and breast a solid scab. Back covered with sores. Best doctors and medicines fail. Cured by Cuticura Remedies at a cost of $3.75.

I have used the CUTICURA REMEDIES with the best results. I used two bottles of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, three boxes of CUTICURA, and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, and am cured of a terrible skin and scalp disease known as psoriasis. I had it for eight years. It would get better and worse at times. Sometimes my head would be a solid scab, and was at the time I began the use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. My arms were covered with scabs from my elbows to shoulders, my breast was almost one solid scab, and my back covered with sores varying in size from a penny to a dollar. I had doctored with all the best doctors with no relief, and used many different medicines without effect. My case was hereditary, and, I began to think, incurable, but it began to heal from the first application of CUTICURA. ARCHER RUSSELL, Deshler, Ohio.

Skin Disease 6 Years Cured.

I am thankful to say that I have used the CUTICURA REMEDIES for about eight months with great success, and consider myself entirely cured of salt rheum, from which I have suffered for six years. I tried a number of medicines and two of the best doctors in the country, but found nothing that would effect a cure until I used your remedies. Mrs. A. McCLAFLIN, Morette, Mo.

The Worst Case of Scrofula Cured.

We have been selling your CUTICURA REMEDIES for years, and have the first complaint yet to receive from a purchaser. One of the worst cases of Scrofula I ever saw was cured by the use of five bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, CUTICURA, and CUTICURA SOAP.

Salaries for the Aldermen.

Ald. McKillican gave notice in the council meeting last evening of his intention to introduce a by-law providing that a salary of $200 per annum be in future paid to each of the city aldermen. They claim that the aldermen are entitled to a small sum with which to meet expenses in connection with their office, just as much as the mayor is.

Supposed to be in Victoria.

C. F. Crause, another ex-inspector of the San Francisco custom house, who was recently indicted by the United States grand jury for complicity in the $15,000 opium smuggling case, is "wanted" by the police of the Bay city. A despatch says Crause is supposed to be in Victoria, B.C., with Westcott and Gallagher, who are also wanted in connection with the matter.

Still Another Brick Block.

Mr. F. G. Richards, jr., reports the sale yesterday of another choice lot on Dallas road. The seller was Mr. John Turner, and the purchaser Mr. L. Buttres Trimen. Thirteen hundred dollars was the price paid. It is Mr. Turner's intention to erect a new brick block on the Hodge property at the corner of Douglas and Pandora streets, purchased through Mr. Richard's agency for $14,000.

A Midnight Alarm.

At about 12:15 this morning, Thos. Farrell, while walking along Douglas street, noticed a blaze in the direction of the Work estate. He promptly gave the alarm of fire, and the brigade turned out quickly, with a large number of citizens, called from their slumbers by the fire bell, to find that the fire was somewhere in the direction of Cedar Hill. Although the fire must have been several miles away, the sparks could plainly be seen. From the fact that the fire very quickly burned itself out, and from the immense number of sparks rising from it, the majority believe that it was some blazing haystack. The flames were also plainly seen at Esquimalt.

Welcoming the New Pastor.

Last evening the congregation of the Gorge Road Methodist Church, with their friends from far and near, gathered to welcome the new pastor, Rev. W. W. Baer, late of Comox, and to bid farewell to Rev. Mr. Wadman, whose labors in Victoria have now been brought to a close. The church was well filled, and the kindliest feelings for both the old and the new pastor were expressed by every one. Rev. Mr. Wadman being called to the chair, the following impromptu programme was taken up, and greatly enjoyed by all present: Chorus, by the choir; prayer, Rev. J. W. Wadman; speech, Mr. Maurice Humber; solo, Miss Berridge; speech, Mr. Noah Shakespeare; Anthem, choir; speech, Rev. Mr. Baer; cornet solo, Miss Western, (encored); speech, Rev. Mr. Fraser; solo, Miss Humber.

Refreshments were served at this stage of the proceedings, and after the good things had been disposed of, the programme was brought to a close with another chorus, a speech from Rev. Mr. Rugg, and a few closing remarks from the new pastor. The audience were then dismissed with the benediction.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

The regular meeting of the municipal parliament was held in the city hall last evening. Present, Mayor Grant, in the chair, and all the aldermen.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From H. F. Heisterman, for the National Electric Tramway Co., stating that the company would require the use of the streets for purposes of track laying about the 20th of July; the plan of the tracks being according to the schedule previously laid before the board. Referred to the street committee.

From the citizens of Vancouver, per D. Oppenheimer, mayor, inviting the council and citizens of Victoria to be present in Vancouver on the 1st of July. On motion the board accepted the invitation to attend.

From Henry P. Pellew Crease, enclosing a copy of the presentment of the grand jury at the last assizes, and expressing the hope that both evils referred to would be speedily attended to. (The evils referred to were the presence of powder magazines in the city, and the presence of women of loose character in the theatres and upon the leading streets of the city.) Referred to the police committee.

From O. C. Hastings, St. Lawrence street, in regard to securing water service. Referred to the water committee and water commissioner.

From Tai Yick & Co., asking that their opium license be discontinued. Filed.

From the Victoria, Saanich and New Westminster railway, per Amor De Cosmos, president, asking for an interview with the board. Received and request granted, this evening being named as the time for the petitioners to meet the council.

From the Port Townsend celebration committee, extending the freedom and hospitality of their city, and inviting the council to be present in Port Townsend on the 4th of July. Invitation accepted with thanks.

From Thomas Geiger, asking that a new sidewalk be laid on Blanchard street, between Herald and Fisgard streets. Referred to the street committee, with power to act.

From H. F. Heisterman, in regard to the dilapidated condition of the Douglas street fountain, and asking that some attention be given to its preservation. Communication received and referred to the park committee, with power to act.

Ald. Goodacre—It will be put in repair at once.

From the secretary of the National Electric Tramway Company, as follows:—

To the Mayor and Board of Aldermen:

Gentlemen:—Referring to my former communication to your honorable body, I have further to notify you that it is the intention of the company, in addition to the schedule therein furnished to open Government street to Johnson, Johnson to Store, and Store street to lot 1,363, fronting on the approach of the new bridge. I am requested to call your attention to the bridge on St. Lawrence street, which is too slight to admit of the passage of our cars, and recommend that it be strengthened. We would also ask your honorable body to grade Superior street, so as to allow us to lay our rails, otherwise our work will be seriously impeded and great loss will be inflicted on the company. With respect to the extra cover on James Bay bridge, required by the company's contract with the city, we wish to be informed on the authority of City Engineer if in his opinion the bridge will carry the additional load.

Referred to the street committee and city surveyor.

From B.C. Ice and Fish Freezing Co., per S. B. Kelly, asking that they be exempt from taxation for five years.

Ald. Vigelius moved, seconded by Ald. Harrison, that the company be exempt from taxation, as requested.

Ald. Coughlan thought that the matter was too small to occupy the attention of the council. There were many other manufactories of far greater importance, investing more money and employing more men, who did not receive the encouragement asked for. He moved that the communication be referred to the finance committee for report.

Ald. Wilson seconded the amendment, as he wished further information on the subject.

Amendment carried on a tie by the vote of the mayor.

From Fook Yuen & Co., stating that it was not their intention to continue the manufacture of opium. Filed.

From Wm. T. Crawford, complaining of excessive water charges. Referred to the Water Committee and Water Commissioner.

Ald. Harris advised that the City Clerk be authorized in future to refer communications of this nature to the proper officials, without laying them before the Council and occupying the time of the Board unnecessarily.

PETITIONS.

From L. Goodacre and others, re. the supply of water on Edmond street. Referred to the Water Committee and Water Commissioner.

From Tai Sung & Co. and other manufacturers and dealers in opium, asking that the license fee be reduced from $500 to $200. Filed.

GRADING WORK STREET.

Tenders for grading Work street, from Bridge street to Point Ellice bridge, were received from James Baker, John Haggerty, Peter Nelson, and Noel Le Clair. On motion, the contract was awarded to the lowest tenderer, Mr. John Haggerty, whose offer was 30 cents per cubic yard for earthwork and $2.23 for rockwork.

SEWERAGE MATTERS.

Ald. Harris moved, seconded by Ald. McKillican, that the sum of $700 be set aside for the purpose of defraying the expenses of Mr. Pickering, who would visit the city and give any information required, so that the sewerage work could be proceeded with at once.

Ald. Harris explained that Mr. Pickering would be able to give any information required, and the work could be then pushed to completion as the people wished to see it.

Ald. Coughlan thought that Mr. Pickering could do no good by coming to Victoria. He was of the opinion that as good engineering talent as was required was to be had in Victoria. The expenditure of money advised was, he thought, only a waste.

Ald. Kelly supported the separate sewerage system, and could see no benefit to be derived by getting Mr. Pickering out.

Ald. Wilson endorsed Ald. Harris' remarks. He hoped to see the level of the sewers raised, and thought it could be arranged if Mr. Pickering paid Victoria a second visit.

Ald. Harrison endorsed Ald. Wilson's remarks. He was of opinion that the people would accept no system but the Pickering.

Ald. Coughlan spoke again, and carried on a conversation with Ald. Harrison, until called to order.

Ald. Harris, in closing the debate, referred to the fact that Mr. Pickering had made a speciality of sanitary engineering, and could give a more intelligent opinion than any one here.

Mayor Grant said that only a few days ago he was informed that Mr. Keefer, a prominent sanitary engineer, who had examined Mr. Pickering's plans, pronounced his sewers far too large for Victoria.

On being put to a vote, Ald. Harris' motion was carried without a division.

APPOINTED OVERSEER.

On motion, Mr. C. H. Lambkin was appointed overseer during the construction of Rock Bay bridge.

REPORTS.

The finance committee presented a report re Mr. Spencer's application for assistance for the encouragement of immigration. The committee found that the council had no power to grant the aid asked for, and advised Mr. Spencer to address the provincial government. Report adopted.

The street committee recommended the gravelling of a portion of Dallas road, and the laying of a new sidewalk on Vancouver street between Collinson and Maclure. Report adopted.

The sanitary committee in a report advised the purchase of a horse for the sanitary cart. Report adopted.

ALDERMEN'S REMUNERATION.

Ald. McKillican gave notice of his intention to introduce a bylaw, seconded by Ald. Harris, entitled the "Aldermanic Remuneration Bylaw."

AN INFRINGEMENT OF THE BYLAW.

Ald. Coughlan and Styles called attention to the fact that a brick foundation was being placed under an old wooden building on Waddington alley. They did not think this should be allowed.

Ald. Harris and Wilson thought that the council should look into this matter before passing an opinion. Ald. Wilson thought that the building was certainly safer than before, but was of the opinion that it was a direct violation of the bylaw.

Mayor Grant was also of opinion that this was an infringement of the law which should not be allowed.

On motion, the building inspector, city surveyor, and superintendent of police were instructed to carry out the bylaw in this case.

Ald. Coughlan thought that Mr. Leach had in this case proved himself entirely incompetent for his position. He thought that a capable man should be appointed.

Ald. Wilson remarked that Mr. Leach was in no way to blame in this case. He applied to Ald. Vigelius for advice, and if any one was to blame the alderman was.

On motion the street committee were authorized to lay a new box drain on Pandora street near the city hall, and the board adjourned.
